ICOM UK Annual Report 2017

Membership
For the 2017 membership year, ICOM UK introduced an online membership system (Membership Hub). The system went live in November 2016 and enabled existing and new members renew or apply online, and also pay online.

The new Membership Hub offers a more efficient enrollment service, enabling the organisation to grow without a substantial increase in administration costs.

In 2017 ICOM UK membership increased its membership across all categories:

- Individual Regular – 18% increase
- Individual Retired – 13% increase
- Individual Student – 52% increase
- Institutions – 8% (across all categories in total)

While investigating ways to increase membership across all categories, in 2018 ICOM UK will explore opportunities to develop ideas for increasing engagement and providing new opportunities for student members.

Programmes
Annual General Meeting

ICOM UK’s AGM took place at the Institute of Archaeology at UCL London on Thursday 6 July 2017. The key note speakers were Amy Eastwood, Senior Programme Manager for the UK Cultural Protection Fund (CPF) and Lut Vandeput, Director of the British Institute at Ankara. They spoke about the Safeguarding Archaeological Assets of Turkey (SARAT) project, funded by the British Council’s Cultural Protection Fund (CPF) in which ICOM UK is the UK partner.

Dana Andrew, ICOM UK Executive Director presented the summary findings of the first ICOM UK membership survey and Tonya Nelson made her first address at the newly appointed Chair of ICOM UK.

2017 Working Internationally Conference

In partnership with the National Museum Directors’ Council (NMDC) and the Natural History Museum (NHM), ICOM UK organised the annual Working Internationally Conference. The fifth Working Internationally Conference took place on 2 March 2017 at the Natural History Museum in London. Attended by 120 museum and gallery professionals from across the UK, the Conference took the pulse of working internationally in a post-Brexit world. It addressed key questions such as what issues will museums face in the months and years ahead as the UK seeks political separate from the European Union? How could we maximize the opportunities and manage the challenges ahead of us? The conference also explored the regulatory and legislative risks of Brexit and the soft risks arising from a weaker perception of the UK overseas, impacting the ability of museums to effectively deliver cultural diplomacy.

The Conference programme, speaker presentations and videos of the key note sessions are publicly available on the ICOM UK website.
2017 Museums Association Conference

ICOM UK hosted a luncheon on 16 November 2017 at the Museums Association Conference in Manchester. Peter Keller, Director General of ICOM was the keynote speaker. The luncheon was well-attended and well-received.

Working with ICOM Publications, ICOM UK also had a presence in the Conference exhibition. ICOM UK’s committee members and Executive Director were available to network with current members and speak to potential members about the benefits of joining ICOM’s global network of museum professionals.

Travel Bursaries

In 2017 ICOM UK awarded seven travel bursaries, enabling six members to attend the ICOM-CC conference in Copenhagen and the International Association of Book and Paper Conservators (IADA) Symposium in Oslo. The reports by the Travel Bursary Recipients can be read on the ICOM UK website.

Travel Grants

In addition, a new successful funding scheme was launched. ICOM UK secured funding from Heritage Without Borders (HWB) to run 2 – 3 rounds of a Greater Europe Travel Grant Scheme in 2017-18. To date, a total of ten grants have been awarded totaling c.£6,000. Each grant recipient is required to publish online a report on their visit. These Case Studies are published as a public resource on the ICOM UK website.

ICOM UK also secured funding from the British Council to run a Global Travel Grant Scheme in 2017-18. In late 2017 a total of six grants were awarded totaling £7,200. Each grant recipient is required to write a report on their visit, which will be published as a Case Study on the ICOM UK website.

SARAT (Safeguarding Archaeological Assets of Turkey)

ICOM UK is the UK partner in a project funded UK Cultural Protection Fund (CPF) and led by the British Institute at Ankara (BIAA). SARAT aims to build capacity and raise awareness for safeguarding archaeological assets in Turkey, with a focus on those in south-eastern provinces. The principle deliverable of the project is an online training course, in Turkish, for Turkish museum and archaeology professionals. ICOM UK is supporting the project by leading on recruitment of specialists to develop the course curriculum and develop an evaluation framework for the online course and overall SARAT project.

UK Blue Shield and Response to Hurricane Irma

ICOM UK continued to be represented at meetings of UK Blue Shield, contributing to the work of the committee. ICOM UK is delighted, after years of lobbying with fellow UK heritage organisations, that the UK ratified the 1954 Hague Convention for the Protection of Cultural Property in the Event of Armed Conflict and acceded to the Protocols on 12 September 2017.

In response to Hurricane Irma ICOM UK committee members helped to provide information, where known, about the location of heritage sites, and an assessment form, for adaptation, for potential use at sites affected. The ICOM UK representative on the committee delivered training in Post Conflict Damage Assessment for Collections in Museums, for the British Museum Iraq Emergency Heritage Management Training Scheme for Iraqi Archaeologists.
Application to become a Sector Support Organisation (SSO)

ICOM UK was not successful in its application to Arts Council England (ACE) to become an SSO. Feedback from ACE indicated that there was not strong enough evidence for a strategic need and demand to develop the Working Internationally Regional Project (an ACE funded project) into a programme (SSO funding from ACE). Although the strengths of the application were acknowledged, the feedback from ACE requested more investigation into integrated delivery methods and indicated that the proposed budget relied too heavily on ACE funding.

Working Internationally Regional Project (WIRP)

The WIRP concluded at the end of March 2017. It was led by ICOM UK in partnership with the National Museum Directors’ Council (NMDC) and the British Council. The WIRP was funded by Arts Council England (ACE).

The WIRP demonstrably built on the success of the pilot year (2014-15) to engage and empower a wider cohort of museum and gallery professionals in working internationally. The overarching aim of Stage 2 of the WIRP was to build on the work completed in Stage 1 to develop sustainability, resilience and support leadership for the regional museums sector seeking to embark on or continue international work.

This was achieved by four core strategies:

a) Extend: continue to map the extent of international work by regional museums, organise a series of regional workshops, and engage Museum Development Managers and Arts Council England (ACE) Relationship managers through specific briefing events.

b) Embed: encourage the embedding of international work into organisational strategic plans by providing examples of best practice.

c) Explore: encourage the understanding that the most successful international projects are conceived through considering the unique value of an organisation's offer, where the opportunities for international work are within that value and re-purposing the familiar in new ways.

d) Engage: through international work explore the opportunities for audience building with local diaspora communities.

The final WIRP Workshop delivered in 2017 was Initiating and Maintaining International Contacts at the British Library on 1 March 2017. All of the WIRP Workshop programmes and speakers slides can be downloaded from the ICOM UK website.

Twelve travel grants were awarded to non-national museums in the UK to undertake international visits to develop projects and partnerships. The reports from these visits were published as Case Studies on the ICOM UK website in 2017.

Communications

ICOM UK continued to grow its social media presence and engagement through Twitter @UK_ICOM which now has over 5,300 followers and a consistently high rate of engagement. This is a 20% increase in followers over 2017. One of the most popular Twitter campaigns was a Buzzfeed quiz, with other engagement campaigns highlighting ICOM UK member institutions and regional institutions. ICOM UK has recruited an International Museum Day coordinator (volunteer) to develop an online campaign, deliver content and evaluate the programme for May 2018.

In addition to the WIRP resources and research, travel grants and bursaries, and international events calendar, ICOM UK continued to curate a weekly news email that is sent directly each Tuesday afternoon to all members. Feedback from members indicate this is proving increasingly popular. The weekly news email includes updates from ICOM, Network of European Museum Organisations (NEMO) and other relevant organisations as well as news and opportunities for working internationally.
2017 saw ICOM UK initiate a new idea to connect ICOM UK members directly with museum professionals in other countries across the ICOM network. The first of these interviews was published in January 2018 and we plan to publish six interviews a year. Our preference is to interview ICOM members in other countries to highlight the benefit of being part of ICOM’s international network of museum professionals.

ICOM UK has a working group from the committee and membership team that develops and manages marketing, communications and social media campaigns with support from other committee members and the Executive Director.

Quarterly meetings with ICOM UK and DCMS were initiated in 2017.

Board meetings are minuted and the minutes are reviewed at each subsequent meeting.
Public Benefit
The following assessment of the public benefit delivered by ICOM UK is provided in accordance with the requirements of the SORP reporting and the conditions set by the Charity Commission.

The Trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in Section 17(5) of the 2011 Charities Act to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

ICOM UK delivers benefit to the public in the following ways:

1. By facilitating professional collaboration and interaction between the UK and cultural heritage communities, ICOM UK supports the professional development aims of the world body of museums.
2. By promoting intercultural dialogue and understanding, ICOM UK supports the general interests of the public by providing a channel and means for improved international political relations.
3. By supporting the broader work of ICOM, ICOM UK is able to support work in the public interest such as the protection of cultural heritage at risk through disaster or conflict and the prevention or deterrence of illicit trade in cultural property.
4. By providing a conduit for the exchange of professional expertise, ICOM UK supports improvement in the care and management of cultural heritage and collections, ensuring that they are accessible to and can be enjoyed by current and future generations.
5. By organising professional development opportunities for UK museums to share, network and learn about international work here and abroad, ICOM UK contributes to the progress of a vibrant programme of international exchange.

Risk Management
Responsibility for the review and management of risks to ICOM UK rests with the Trustees and is dealt with in the normal course of business.

Future Activities
The major activities to be undertaken in 2018 are:

Statement of Trustee’s Responsibilities

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Annual Report and financial statements in accordance with the applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law they have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities and applicable law (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice applicable to Smaller Entities).

Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the profit or loss of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity’s transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the small companies regime under the Companies Act 2006.
INDEPENDENT EXAMINERS REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF MUSEUMS
(UNITED KINGDOM)

I report on the accounts for the company for the year ended 31 December 2017, which are set out on pages 9 to 12.

Respective responsibilities of Trustees and examiner

The Trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The Trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act), and that an independent examination is needed.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner’s report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as Trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a ‘true and fair view’ and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below:

Independent examiner’s statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006; and

- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities (revised 2005).

have not been met; or

2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
